The 5 types of cycling facilities include the following:

1. Bike lane

Bike lanes are the most common type of cycling infrastructure in Ontario. Guelph currently has 68 kilometers of bike lanes along most of the City arterial roads.

Guelph's bike lane features a painted buffer which creates additional space between bicycles and vehicles.

2. Multi-use path

A Multi-Use Path (MUP) is a pathway shared between people walking, cycling and using mobility devices. Guelph has 5.5 kilometers of multi-use paths.

3. Trail

The City has several kilometers of beautiful trails for you to explore.

4. Signed route

Signed routes direct people on bikes through quiet residential streets as an alternative to using bike lanes on major roads, or where bike lanes are not available. Guelph has over 14 of kilometers of signed routes.

5. Cycle track

A cycle track is a bike lane that is physically separated from vehicle traffic and from the sidewalk.

Disclaimer: Safety first! Never use a cell phone or camera while riding your bike. Once you've found the cycling facility you were looking for, step out of the roadway to capture your photo. Don't forget, fall is just around the corner and that means the days are getting shorter. Use lights at dawn and dusk and always wear a helmet.
